

VOLUNTEER DRESS CODE

When volunteering at the Frederick Rescue Mission, please dress modestly. We have men in recovery living at the Mission and daily we serve men, women and children for a variety of services. It is important to observe an appropriate dress code. We recognize the divergence in views on style and fashion and we respect the judgment of our volunteers. We do wish, however, to state clearly the dress code policy for our volunteers.

Ministry Team, administrative and front office volunteers should follow the guidelines below with the expectation of closed toed shoes and sleeveless shirts.

Permitted in our food service areas including our Food Distribution Center and Rescued Treasures:

- T shirts, long, short sleeve shirts
- Jeans
- Shorts or skirts (should be fingertip length or longer)
- Sneakers or work boots
- Closed toed shoes
- Clothes that cover your stomach, upper arms and chest
- Spandex tights with a shirt that cover your midriff

Not permitted in our food service areas including our Food Distribution Center and Rescued Treasures:

- Open toed shoes
- No “see through” material
- Sleeveless shirts, low neck blouses, halter tops, bare midriff, tub tops or strapless tops
- Clothing with provocative slogans, drawings, signs, gang related or other wording or artwork that is not keeping with Christian philosophy of the Frederick Rescue Mission
- Provocative garments
- Appropriate undergarments must be worn

Thank you for volunteering and for serving as a role model for our residents and guests. If you have any questions regarding our dress code policy, please contact us. If you arrive to the Mission to volunteer and are not within our dress code policy, you could be asked to leave and not volunteer that specific day.
